PREPARING LAST minute details for the dedication of the Education-Psychology building, Acting President Perry Mitchell explains to Dr. Maurice Pettit, chairman of the Education, Psychology and Philosophy Division, that Central is proud of the latest addition to the new building campaign.

WSU President Speaks At Dedication Of Recently Completed $850,000 Building

BY DENNIS GOW

Central's new education-psychology building was formally dedicated yesterday afternoon in ceremonies in the College auditorium and at the front of the new structure. The $850,000 building, already in use for the past year, embodies the latest equipment in the fields of teacher-training and psychological study. Features include complete facilities for closed-circuit educational television and laboratory facilities for psychological research.

Prior to the ceremonies a reception was given in the educational psychology conference center for the 60 honored and distinguished guests. Mrs. Olive Schnebly headed arrangements for the reception.

WSU President Speaks

Keynote of the program at the auditorium was an address by Dr. C. Clement French, president of Washington State University, on the topic "Education Today and Tomorrow."

Ed Erickson, director of educational services at Central, presided as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by the Rev. John C. Allred, and special music presented by the choir and band of Central.

From the auditorium, the program moved to the front of the education-psychology building where architect John Culler formally presented the building to Victor J. Bouillon, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Tours of the new building followed.

Honored guests included Acting-President Perry Mitchell; President-Elect James E. Brooks; Joe Dwyer, representing Gov. Albert D. Roselini; Wendell Allen, representing State Superintendent of Instruction Louis Bruno.

Others included the members of Central's Board of Trustees, Mrs. Frank Therriault, Roy Wahle, Mrs. Frederick Davis, Archie S. Wilson, and Chairman Victor J. Bouillon.

Dr. Maurice Pettit, chairman of Central's education, psychology, and philosophy division, was general chairman of the dedication activities.

Carl Ruud Supervises Recreation; Outlines Individual, Group Sports

BY STEPHEN TELLARI

Central is a campus of plenty-to-do.

While hundreds of Central's students flee from the bright sunshine to enjoy the recreation provided, one man has these people in mind all the time.

Carl Ruud, recreation director for the summer term, has included a spot for all students in his summer sports program. Ruud, who comes to Central from Cashmere, Wash., received his B.A. in Education from Eastern Washington College of Education and his M.A. in Recreation at the University of Illinois.

Ruud is an experienced man in his field. He has worked as superintendent of the Spokane County Recreational Department and now is secretary of the Park Board in Cashmere, Wash. He is married and has a two-year-old daughter.

Graduate Club Welcomes Grads

Graduate students were welcomed last Thursday by E. K. Erickson, director of the summer session, at the first meeting of the Graduate Club.

Dr. Herbert L. Anshutz, theses consultant, announced a special course in form and theses writing to assist in the preparation of papers. It will meet in Room 102 in Ed.-Psych. building. 3:40 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This is a non-credit course and no fee is required. It will include a review of grammar. All students are invited to attend.

Dr. Roy F. Ruebel stressed that the Plan II paper in the Master program is limited to 3,000 to 5,000 words and is to be written in connection with a regularly organized class. He announced that the oral examination will be on the course work only.

All students are welcomed to the club said Joan Baybarz, secretary-treasurer. Undergraduates and faculty will be associate members, without voting privileges.

DEAN WANTS ADDRESSES

Women students who have not already informed the dean of women of their Ellensburg addresses are asked to do so as soon as possible.

Her office is 102 in the Administration Building. This applies mainly to those who pre-registered on May 13.

GIVING A DEMONSTRATION of a new feature of the summer recreation program is Carl Ruud, riding one of the bikes that is available for the students. Best of all it costs nothing to rent one of these.

Exchange Proves Sound; Two Improvements Needed

After its first venture in operating a student book exchange for summer quarter students, SGA should take note of at least two improvements that would greatly add to the exchange's effectiveness.

This quarter's exchange was reasonably successful. Approximately 300 students took advantage of its operation to either leave their used books for sale or purchase used books at a lower price than could be offered by the College Book Store.

When the book exchange opened there was little, if any, confusion in handling the books or the money. The chairman and the student workers were efficient and students were able to collect either their unsold books or the money for sold books the Monday after the exchange closed. This was good.

The exchange however, was not entirely successful. The actual percentage of students who used its services was comparatively small.

Due to the fact that the exchange failed to open on the day of registration many were discouraged. Students wishing to use the exchange that first day could be seen traipsing up and down the steps to the basement to the exchange's headquarters, either eager to sell or to buy.

Many, fearing that their desired text would be sold out at the book store, felt it was better to purchase the text for a higher price at the book store than to take a chance on obtaining the book at the exchange when it opened the next day.

Others were not even aware of the SGA Book Exchange's existence until late in the week or even after the exchange had closed. There was a conspicuous lack of effective advertising for the exchange during the first day of registration when it would have been more effective. A few posters placed somewhere along the line of registration would have done wonders.

Operating the exchange during summer quarter was a worthwhile endeavor for the Student Government Association and did aid many students. With more forethought next year the money spent by SGA on this venture could result in greater service to the students.

SGA Presidential By-line

I want to extend a welcome to all who are attending the 1961 summer quarter and invite each of you to come in to the new SGA offices if you have any questions or problems related to student government or student activities. We may be able to help you either with an answer or direct you to the proper authorities.

The SGA through the office of Mr. Carl Ruud, recreation director, is sponsoring many and varied activities for your enjoyment. I hope that you will find these activities interesting and will take part in these activities.

I further hope you will find your summer quarter both rewarding and enjoyable. With these ideas in mind I again want to say welcome to Central.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"HERE'S YOUR NEW OFFICE — JUST A STONE'S THROW FROM THE BOYS DORM."

Weekend Service Fails To Interest Students

Among the list of new services inaugurated by the CUB in the 1961 summer session, is included a weekend snack bar service.

As the dining hall does not serve from Friday noon to Monday morning during the summer session, this new program of keeping the CUB open on weekends was felt to be a real service to students when first contemplated. It still seems to be a good idea.

Something, however, is wrong. After its first weekend on the expanded plan, a new evaluation has to be made. Either students did not know the CUB was open or preferred to take their business elsewhere for few chose to take advantage of the expanded program. Perhaps the number returning home on weekends makes this service negligible.

Whatever the reason for the lack of weekend customers, one thing remains true. Unless students do patronize the CUB on weekends, the snack bar must operate at a loss on those days. If more customers do not arrive, the cost of keeping the snack bar open on those two days will prove a hindrance to its operating expense and consequently, its ability to serve the students as a whole.

Let's either patronize the CUB on weekends or close the snack bar and use the money in a more effective direction.

Appearing July 20 with a yellow, violet, black and white cover will be Central's newest publication, "Inscape."

Operating under an "all college" literary format, "Inscape" features essays, poetry, prose, book reviews, photographs, painting, and sculpture.

SGA voted $2,053 for the literary publication spring quarter, including the magazine on their budget.

Jim Lindquist has served as editor of the publication. Faculty members David Burt, Don Cummings, Dr. Bert Anchutz, and Dr. Elwyn Odell were responsible for the organization of the magazine. Bob Purser is serving as art and lay out editor.

"Inscape" has 52 pages, eight pages of art work, a six by nine silk screen cover, and silk screen inserts. Summer quarter's issue will feature art work by visiting art professors.

Lindquist announced that back issues of "Inscape" may be purchased. The magazine sells for 50 cents and will be sold at the information booth in the CUB. Subscriptions are $2.25 a year. A mail out system has been set up, Lindquist said.

Brisk sales of the magazine have been reported.

Students Benefit In Book Exchange

Approximately $250 was taken in by the SGA book exchange this past week reported Gordon Markham today.

Over half of the 145 books that were offered at the book exchange were sold.

"There are some books that have not been claimed by their owners," Markham said. "The exchange will be open Monday, July 3 for this purpose, from 2 to 4 p.m. If they are not picked up on that day they will remain the property of the SGA," he said.

Other students who helped with the book exchange were Gaye McEachern, Barbara Perry, Janet Paisley, May Morey, Al Blenko and Vernal Pinson.

Former President Revisits Campus During Workshop

Dr. Robert E. McConnell, former president of Central, was at the college Friday as a guest lecturer at the Counseling and Guidance Institute.

This highly popular institute is conducted under the National Defense Education Act for certified school personnel in guidance and counseling services on the secondary school level.

Thirty are in attendance, having been selected from more than 200 applicants.

Dr. Eldon E. Jacobsen, professor of Psychology, is institute director.

"The institute is one of 77 such summer institutes throughout the nation and the only one in Washington," Dr. Jacobsen said. "Purpose is to provide refresher training and to emphasize location of talented students toward the national effort of conservation of human resources," he added.

Course work includes Statistics, Tests and Measurements, Counseling Theory and Practice, Occupational Information and Theory of Choice, as well as supervised practical training in counseling.

High school students from Ellensburg participate by taking the testing program and counseling with the various counselors enrolled.

one in at least one activity," says Ruud.

Cycling is one of the newest sports added to Central's recreational program. These bicycles are available to enthusiastic men and women for recreational purposes only and may be checked out at the recreation office.

A women's bowling league will be held every Thursday night from 7-9 p.m. from June 29 to Aug. 10. Twenty cents per line for each session will be charged. Women interested can sign up in the recreation office in the CUB. Men's bowling leagues are also in session.

Wednesday night from 6:30 to 8:30 is family recreation night at Nicholson Pavilion. All types of activities will be included in the program: badminton, shuffleboard, volleyball, horseshoes and organized games. The swimming pool will be open Wednesday evening from 3:40 to 5:50 in conjunction with the recreation night activity.

Golf and field trips to points of interest are on the agenda for Friday. Golf before noon and after 4 p.m. Golf, tennis, horseshoes, handball and ping pong tournaments will also be featured this summer.

Trophies will be given to the persons most highly skilled in each of the events.

A poster contest featuring summer recreation is being sponsored in an effort to promote interest in the summer recreation program and as a means of securing posters of outstanding quality which will pertain to specific themes.

Posters should emphasize a particular theme—such as square dancing, family recreation night, etc. Entries will be judged by the department and SGA officers as to color, humor and eye catching appeal.

Entries must be in the recreation office by July 10, 1961. All posters entered will become the property of the Recreation Department. Winners will be notified by mail after July 12, 1961.

Interested individuals may secure tagboard, corrugated paper, etc., from the recreation department offices in the CUB.

WORKING ON the summer's activities for the SGA are Gordon Schaefer, summer president and Barbara Perry, summer secretary. They find the job challenging and inviting. Signing requisitions and keeping up with the correspondence keeps them busy.

'Picnic' Plays Here Tonight

Central's Recreation department has confirmed three films for this weekend.

"Picnic" will be shown Friday night at 7:15 p.m. The film stars William Holden, Kim Novak and Rosalind Russell in a screen version of Bill Inge's play in cinemascope and color. "Picnic" is the story of a stranger in town, and the havoc he creates in the lives of its people.

"Island in the Sun" will be shown Friday night at 9:15 p.m. This film stars James Mason, Dorothy Dandridge, and Harry Belafonte in Alec Waugh's story of racial trouble in the West Indies. The story takes place in a British crown colony deep in the Caribbean and is about the people who live there.

"The Well-Digger's Daughter" will be shown Saturday evening at 7:15 p.m. A Maurice Pagnol film with Raimu, Fernandel, Charpin, Josette Day in a comedy-drama which involves the girl left behind and others on the home front. It is a French film with English subs.

A mistake in the charge of the films occurred last week. Now that the SGA has been informed upon the ten cent movie policy in the past, they will not charge admission for the rest of the summer schedule, Gordon Schaefer, SGA president, explained.

The 553-mile New York State Thruway connects, via extensions, with the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the Connecticut Turnpike, the Garden State (N.J.) Parkway, the Massachusetts Turnpike and other major highways.

Summer Officers Explain Purpose

Summer Student Government Association officers are enjoying their duties, reports Gordon Schaefer, president and Barbara Perry, secretary.

Schaefer is a senior this quarter and is a regular student here at Central. He is majoring in business administration.

"I have been signing requisitions for purchases that have been made," Schaefer said. "My job is to get things lined up for fall," he added.

Miss Perry is a June graduate and has majored in education with three minors.

"This job is most interesting, because of the people I meet," Miss Perry said. "It consists of taking care of the correspondence, the telephone, dittoing, and I work about two hours a day," she added.

The summer officers were selected by the student council. Their services will last from June 9 to Aug. 18.

Library Closes Tuesday

Hours for the library this weekend will remain the same, Clarence Gorchels, head librarian, explained.

Weekend hours for the library during summer quarter are 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday and 7 to 10 p.m. on Sunday.

Due to the holiday status of July 4, Tuesday, the library will not be open during the day. It will be open that evening from 7 to 10 p.m.

The library will be open as usual on Monday, Gorchels said.

CWC BUILDING PROGRAM PROGRESSESNew Central Library Nears Completion

Dr. Brooks Attends Pacific Confab Studies Instruction For Central

President-elect Dr. James Brooks and four members of the faculty attended the annual Pacific Conference on Higher Education held in Seattle last week.

Dr. J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction and a member of the conference steering committee, Dr. Catharine Bullard, head of the English department, and Dr. Odette Golden, assistant professor of English, also attended.

Development of honors programs at college level was a major topic, reports Dr. Crum. It involves advance placement for incoming freshmen, a special section for the academically talented, and provisions for superior students.

"Our program is limited, yet we have been moving in this direction," Dr. Crum said.

Colleges are giving renewed attention to general education. The feeling seemed to be that it should be coordinated with general education programs of the high schools, and should be in accordance with changing objectives of college.

Dr. Bullard explained Central's unique program for first year English. Giving one quarter of English composition each year for three years has the advantage of keeping English usage before the student, and bringing certain phases closer to the time of actual use.

Cleaners Cleanse CUB After Finals

As soon as the majority of students left on June 9, the last day of spring quarter finals, the CUB was closed for 10 days, Mrs. Olive Schnebly, CUB director, announced.

"Cleaning and moving of new furniture was done during this time," she said.

New carpets were laid, she explained. During the closure, the snack bar staff had a vacation.

On Monday morning, June 19, the CUB and snack bar opened for summer session.

The airport for the Scottish island of Barra in the Outer Hebrides is a beach covered with cockles. Planes land at low tide.

Fun Featured By Education

Leadership education for parents and teachers will feature fun night and mixer, informal tea and the best housing available, as well as the regular lectures at the conference here at Central July 10, 11 and 12.

"You Are A Leader" is the theme of the conference, with training for local P.T.A. unit officers being the purpose of the conference. Leadership techniques will be discussed and demonstrated explained Bill Ranniger, director of CES, and in general charge of affairs.

Among those participating will be Frank Price, Tacoma; Mrs. Noel Morical, Orondo; Mrs. Orlo Mohr, Cashmere; Joe Chandler, Seattle; Mrs. Charles Gronewald, Goldendale; Mrs. Ray Tumblin, Ephrata; Mrs. Richard Landis and Pat Haas, Yakima; Mrs. Frank Davido, Zillah; Mrs. Earl Nansen, Omak; and Dr. M. Curtis Howd, Muncie, Indiana.

Delegates will be housed in Stephens-Whitney dormitories. Meals will be served in the college dining halls.

Eight Faculty Receive Rank

Eight members of the faculty received advancement in rank, announced Perry H. Mitchell, acting president.

The promotions went to Dr. T. Dean Stinson, promoted to full professor; Mrs. Sidnie Mundy, promoted to associate professor; Ed Haines, promoted to associate professor; Ted Bowen, promoted to associate professor; Grace Armstrong, associate professor; Mary Uber, associate professor; Dorothy Purser, assistant professor and Ed Klucking, assistant professor.

Crier Corral Students To Work On Publication

Photographers are needed to work on the Campus Crier beginning next fall, Judy Harmon, Crier editor, said today.

Photographers receive $1.50 for each print used in the Crier. A new darkroom with enlarged facilities has been installed in the new Crier office.
